1. On 25 December the North Koreans began to move all the facilities of the airfield at Myongsasim-ni, Wonsan city, to Koam-ni (127-23, 39-17) (CU-61149), 15 kilometers north of Wonsan. The airfield at Myongsasim-ni was completely destroyed by UN bombings, and repair work had to be abandoned because of frequent air raids.
2. The field at Koam-ni measures 3 by 5 kilometers. There are four hangars built in caves on the slopes of nearby hills.
3. By 13 January no planes had arrived at the field.
